POLICY AND PROCEDURES MANUAL

UPDATED JULY 2024

PREAMBLE

The purpose of the manual is to establish policies and modes of implementation for the successful maintenance of collections held and managed by the LGen E.C. Ashton Armoury Museum. The collections include artifacts, documents/archival materials, photographs, historic vehicles, and other items maintained by the Museum for study, exhibition, and other educational purposes intended to further the mission of the organization. Collections management may be loosely defined as the preservation, documentation, development, care, and use of said items. The Policy & Procedures Manual, therefore, is a resource to guide for the management of the collections by Museum staff.

PART 1 – THE MUSEUM

INTRODUCTION

Mission Statement

The LGen E.C. Ashton Armoury Museum strives for excellence in the acquisition, preservation, interpretation, and presentation of historical artifacts associated with the resident Ashton Armoury units as part of the military heritage of Canada.

Ethics

The LGen E.C. Ashton Armoury Museum recognizes and accepts its fiduciary responsibility to provide proper management, preservation, and use of the collections and associated information it holds in trust for the benefit of past and present members of the Canadian Armed Forces and the public.

History

The Ashton Armoury Museum, located in the LGen E.C. Ashton Armoury, 724 Vanalman Ave, Victoria, was established in 1994 to maintain honour and promote the histories of our resident Communications (Signals), Logistics, Maintenance, Medical and Military Police units, their Canadian Forces Branches and predecessor Army Corps.

The Museum portrays the history of these units and their respective branches and corps that have provided the support necessary to sustain combat forces on the field of battle and during peace time operations.

The Museum also serves to connect serving soldiers with their predecessor's accomplishments. For civilians who have not seen military service, the exhibits show the reality of war and how much is owed to those who endured it. It is a reminder that the freedoms we take for granted came at a heavy price.

Facility

Located in a working armoury, the Museum is a secure, well-managed repository for military and related memorabilia preserved and displayed for current and future generations. The Museum's displays are spread throughout the armoury, with some of the vehicles parked outside in a secure compound

Collections

The Museum has a wide range of artifacts that reflect the history and heritage of the Armoury's resident units, including their contribution during the First and Second World Wars, Korean War, numerous United Nations' peacekeeping operations, the Balkans and the recent Afghanistan conflict. These artifacts are organized in four collections and an archive

- Vehicles. More than 15 vintage military vehicles, many of which can be seen in action around town during parades and other outdoor events.
- Weapons. Firearms, swords and blunt instruments used in conflicts spanning more than 150 years.
- Militaria. Uniforms and accessories representing Canada's WWI and WWII combat support and combat service support corps and their successor post-war branches. There is also a wide range of general militaria, including trench art and war souvenirs.

- Communications-Electronics. The museum has a large and impressive collection of communication and electronic devices from WWI to post WII.
- Archives: Documents, maps, photographs and other artwork that reflect the history and heritage of the armoury resident units and their predecessors.

The Museum has taken care to ensure that artifacts are pertinent to the collections so that the Museum does not become overburdened by artifacts unrelated to its mission statement.

Outreach Program

When invited or the opportunity presents the Museum will design event specific displays based on the availability of appropriate artifacts, uniforms, etc. selected by the staff. Displays, when possible, will be designed to be interactive providing visitors with both a visual and physical experience.

A hands-on educational toolkit, the “Discovery Box”, often accompanies the vintage vehicles to events in greater Victoria. It contains both real and replica uniforms, equipment, and other artifacts related to Canadian military history. These artifacts can be picked up and handled which allows the public to get a hands-on approach to history.

Kit Shop

The Friends of the Ashton Armoury Museum operate a small Kit Shop, during visiting hours, selling both new and gently used items, including artifacts declared surplus to the museum’s requirements.

ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION

Management Structure

The Museum is operated by a small management team and staff of volunteers drawn from the Friends the Ashton Armoury Museum, with a wide range of duties, all of whom act under the direction and supervision of the Director

The Management Team is comprised of a Director, four collection Curators and an Archivist. Preferably, the curators and archivist will be appointed from active museum volunteers. An organization chart is provided at Appendix 1, with Terms of Reference for each position at Appendix 2. The Team guides and directs the museum's policies and long-range goals and plans, and generally oversees the operation of their museum

Museum Advisory Committee

A Museum Advisory Committee comprised of representatives of the units, and their predecessor corps, resident in the Ashton Armoury will be established. The Committee advises the Museum Director and 39 Service Battalion Leadership Team on matters pertaining to the history and heritage of their respective units.

Supporting Association

The Museum is assisted in carrying out its mission by the Friends of the Ashton Armoury Museum Society – “The Friends”, a non-profit Society registered as a charitable society with Canada Revenue Agency. The Society is a separate legal entity and does not exercise command or control over the museum.

The Friends may issue tax receipts for gifts to the Society which are then lent to, not donated to, the Museum.

While Individuals may serve both Museum volunteers and Society members care must be taken to avoid conflicts of interest.

Armoury and Museum Security

The Museum will adhere to the LGen E.C. Ashton Armoury Standing Orders for building security.

Access to the Armoury is controlled and protected by internal and perimeter alarm systems. In addition, the main Museum, which includes a weapon display, is protected with an independent alarm system. All museum staff and visitors must complete the Armoury Access Register.

Museum Layout

Exhibits and displays are spread throughout the armoury, including the second-floor corridors. A map showing the location of museum collections and key armoury features is provided at Appendix 3.

Hours of Operation

The museum is open from 0900 – 1200 hrs Tuesday, Thursday and the first Saturday in the month throughout the year. Visitors are welcome and may even get the opportunity to watch the staff at work. Special visitation may be arranged on request to the Museum Director.

Food Consumption

The consumption of a food and beverages is not permitted in the Museum's main display area or around vehicles.

Visitors

In the interest of public education and keeping both the public and staff informed of museum events and activities a website and Facebook page are maintained.

Event Requests

All requests for Museum tours or to participate in events outside the Ashton Armoury shall be submitted to the Museum Director for consideration and approval. As a rule, event requests should be received a minimum of 30 days prior to the event.

Events will be considered on their individual merit and the capacity of the Museum to support, including volunteer availability.

Once approved, the Director, in consultation with Museum Curators, will determine personnel support requirements, if any, which will be directed to the President of the Ashton Armoury Museum Friends to enlist volunteers.

Association Membership

The Museum is a member of the:

- Organization of Military Museums of Canada (OMMC);
- Canadian Museums Association;
- British Columbia Museums Association; and

COLLECTIONS MANAGEMENT

Definitions

Acquisition: The act of obtaining, either by purchase, trade or donation an artifact or group of artifacts.

Accessioning: The process of recording an artifact or group of artifacts and adding them to the Museum's existing collections.

Acquisition Principles

The acquisition of artifacts is fundamental to the mission of the Museum. If the artifact is not of interest to the Ashton Armoury Museum, the Museum reserves the right to decline the gift, but may suggest an alternate or more appropriate recipient.

The Museum acquires artifacts by a variety of methods, including: gift, bequest, purchase and exchange. The Museum requires a responsible, disciplined acquisition procedure adhering to the following principles:

- a clear delegation of collecting authority.
- the use of formalized acquisition evaluation criteria.
- a strict adherence to professional ethics and all applicable laws and regulations relating to collections acquisition.
- collections may be acquired only in accordance with established authority and only when consistent with applicable law and professional ethics. All applicable federal, provincial, local, and international laws, treaties, regulations, and conventions shall be observed, and compliance documented (where appropriate).
- the Museum observes the highest legal and ethical standards in the acquisition of collections. The Museum shall exercise due diligence in the acquisition of collections, including making reasonable inquiries into the provenance of collection items under consideration for acquisition, to determine that the Museum can acquire a valid legal title to the collection item and that the acquisition will conform to all legal and ethical standards.
- as a rule, collection items are acquired and accessioned only when there is a good faith intention to retain them in the collections for an indefinite period of time. Exceptions to this rule may be approved in accordance with established procedures.
- as a rule, the Museum only acquires unrestricted collections. Exceptions to this rule may be approved in accordance with established procedures.

- consultation with the appropriate authority is required before acquisition of any collection that would require substantial resources which would tax the Museum's allocated collecting budget for the management, and/or preservation of the collection.

Acquisition Prerequisites

Artifacts will be accepted or otherwise acquired for the Museum's collections according to the following prerequisites:

- artifacts must be relevant to and consistent with the purposes and activities of the Museum. The purpose of the accessioned collection is to collect and preserve the history of the units resident in the Ashton Armoury or the education and cultural enrichment of visitors to the Museum.
- condition of the artifact must be considered when acquiring artifacts. If the artifact is of historic interest but is in such fragile condition that the Ashton Armoury Museum cannot provide adequate care, the donor will be directed to a suitable institution.

Provenance & Legal Title

Proof of legal ownership is of primary importance. All donors will be required to sign a Donor Form stating that they are the rightful owners of the artifact(s) and can and will convey good, clear legal title, enabling the Ashton Armoury Museum to assume legal and valid title to, or custody of the artifact(s).

The Museum will obtain reasonable assurance that an artifact has not been exported from its country of origin in violation of that country's law, the ethical guidelines defined by the United Nations (UNESCO) Treaty of 1972, or in violation of federal or state antiquity laws.

Title to all artifacts acquired for the collections should be obtained free and clear, without restrictions or limitations. However, conditions (where accepted by the responsible Museum staff member) should be stated clearly on the Donation Form, made part of the accession records for the item(s), and strictly observed by the Museum in all activities involving the accessioned collections item(s).

A Donation Form, setting forth an adequate description of the artifact(s) and precise conditions of transfer, should accompany all gifts and purchases and should be kept on file at the Museum.

Authority

Authority to evaluate and approve an acquisition(s) is vested in the Director, and/or the designated collection curator (as appropriate).

Acceptance

Donations to the AAM will be accepted as either Gifts to His Majesty the King (weapons or other artifacts at the request of the donor) or Gift to the Friends of the Ashton Armoury Museum (all other items, including vehicles, less weapons).

Weapons

The Firearms Act (S.C. 1995, c. 39) provides for the issuance of licenses under which persons may possess firearms in circumstances that would otherwise constitute an offence under subsection 91(1), 92(1), 93(1) or 95(1) of the Criminal Code.

Weapons must be taken on charge as public property, as opposed to being held as Non-Public Property (NPP) and a message sent through the supporting base supply section to NDHQ/DDSAL, requesting that an Artifact NATO Stock Number (NSN) be assigned, and that the Museum be authorized to hold donated or purchased firearms on the public property DA. DDSAL will assign the artifact NSN and authorize the supporting base supply section to add the artifact to the Museum's DA (this procedure may also be used for other artifacts donated to His Majesty, if desired).

Weapons which are classified as artifacts or memorabilia are accountable items in the CF inventory. Therefore, they shall be stored and handled in accordance with the requirements contained in the Security Orders for the Department of National Defence and the Canadian Forces.

Intake Procedure

The following general procedure shall be followed when an artifact is received by/presented to the Museum. A graphic flow chart (algorithm) is provided at Appendix 4.

1. Ascertain from donor why the artifacts are being offered to the Museum and that the offer is without prejudice.

NOTE: Do not commit to accepting a donation without consulting with the applicable curator.

2. Curator makes an initial determination of the relevance item(s) to the Ashton Armoury Museum.
 - a. If it/they are not relevant, return to the individual and suggest an alternate course of action.
 - b. If it/they are, complete Part 1 of the applicable Donation Intake and Acceptance Form (Appendix 6 Tab A or B) and advise the individual that the items will be examined further to confirm final acceptability. Provide donor copy of Intake Form.
2. Complete detailed examination and appraisal of item(s) and advise donor by telephone/email: which items are acceptable and confirm if a tax receipt is requested. Items deemed not acceptable will be returned and be so noted on original Intake Form and have donor initial acknowledging artifacts returned.
3. Complete Part 2 of applicable Donation Intake and Acceptance Form (Appendix 6 Tab A or B) and Donation Intake Register (Appendix 6 Tab C)
4. Issue the appropriate Tax Receipt, if requested, based on appraised value of item(s)
5. Accession item in the museum artifact inventory
6. Place item(s) on display or in storage.
7. Complete Donation Disposition Form (Appendix 6 Tab H)

Artifact Appraisal

Appraisals are normally completed observing the following guidelines:

1. Under $1,000.00 by the Curator accepting the donation;
2. Over $1000.00 and less than $5000.00 by the Curator accepting the donation and one additional appraiser; and
3. Over $5000.00 by the Curator accepting the donation and two additional appraisers.

Normally, if there is a cost associated with having additional appraisals done, this cost is borne by the artifact donor, who benefits from the tax deduction involved in expensive articles.

Tax Considerations

Donations may be considered for a tax receipt as follows:

1. Gifts to His Majesty

- a. Weapons and other ordnance donations, or other artifacts at the request of the donor, are deemed as Gifts to His Majesty for which the Museum may issue an Official Tax Receipt for the fair-market value of the collection upon request by the donor.
- b. Any funds received as Gifts to His Majesty may qualify for a tax receipt. The tax receipt will only be issued by the local NPP accounting staff.

- 2. Gifts to the Friends of the Ashton Armoury Museum. All other donations are deemed as gifts to the Friends of the Ashton Armoury Museum and will, if requested, be acknowledged with a Charitable Tax Receipt for the value of the property as determined by an appraisal, receipt, or other valid documentation.

Ownership Categories

All Museum artifacts fall into one of three basic ownership categories:

- a. Public Property – Donated or purchased weapons/ordnance and materiel issued by the CF Supply System;
- b. Non-Public Property (NPP) – Materiel or artifacts, other than weapons/ordnance, obtained other than by issue, e.g., by donation (gifts to the Crown) or private purchase; and
- c. Loans – Materiel on loan to the Museum from an outside agency, such as the Friends of the Ashton Armoury Museum or another museum.

The acquisition, cataloguing and disposal record system must separately identify and account for artifacts held in each of these categories.

Note that artifacts, such as weapons/ordnance, which are donated directly to the Museum, become the property of the Museum. Therefore, these artifacts are property of the Crown in right of Canada, with ownership vested in the local commander. See CFAO 27-10.

Accounting for Collections

The Museum's collections are held and maintained for the purposes of public exhibition, education, and research in furtherance of public service, rather than individual or collective financial gain. Collections are protected, kept unencumbered, cared for, and preserved.

All artifacts which are donated to, or received by, the museum become the property of the Crown, either as public property or Non-Public-Property (NPP). Artifacts which are issued through the CAF Supply System are classified as public property. The museum will maintain two Distribution Accounts (DA) for its artifacts; a public property DA, through base supply, and an NPP DA, through the base comptroller.

Exceptions

Prudent exceptions to the Museum's established policies may be permitted in appropriate cases, where said exceptions are in the best interests of the Museum. In all cases, exceptions must be approved by the Friends of the Ashton Armoury Museum Society Executive in consultation with the Museum Director.

Compliance

The Curators shall report annually, to the Director, on the Museum's ability to comply with the dictates of the Policy & Procedures Manual. They shall also be responsible for ensuring that the highest Museum standards are being met, and that these policies are being observed and implemented by the staff and those associated with the Museum.

Artifact Documentation

Artifact documentation procedures are crucial to the safe and proper maintenance of the collection. Artifact records must include detailed information about the artifact itself (provenance, history, description, use, material, dimensions, etc.), as well as information about the donor and cost of the artifact, if purchased.

As an accredited Museum, all artifacts are recorded in provided CF owned software CFAMS (Canadian Forces Artifact Management System). These measures ensure comprehensive records which preserve information, while fostering information exchange within the military museum community.

Insurance Coverage

The CAF Non-Public Property (NPP) Comprehensive Insurance Program (CIP) provides the following coverage in accordance with AFN 105 Chapter 11:

1. Property - All artifacts held by the museum, whether non-public property or on loan; and

2. Comprehensive General Liability – museum operations are covered for legal liability for death/injuries or damage/loss to property of third parties.

Artifact Storage

Artifacts not displayed because of lack of space or because it is duplicate material should be provided with safe storage accommodation. These artifacts will be appropriately stored in one of three designated storage areas (Appendix 5), that meet the same environmental standards as the display area.

Storage areas shall be organized in a systematic manner, so that artifacts can be readily located.

Artifact Restoration

All restoration and ongoing maintenance initiatives must focus on ensuring accuracy in returning the artifact to "original" condition.

Artifact Conservation

While the Museum makes no specific warranties to transferors of the future care and preservation of artifacts donated, it will endeavor to provide the highest precepts of due care, specifically: preventative conservation, storage, handling, and display under conditions that will ensure the artifact's availability for future generations, in keeping with professional Museum standards.

Every possible effort must be made to ensure that exhibits and displays are authentic and if not an explanation of the discrepancy is clearly identified. This practice is particularly critical with respect to vehicle marking and uniform accoutrements

To ensure preservation, each artifact must receive a specific form of storage which meets the requirements of the individual artifact, taking into account such factors as texture and material, dimensions (size, depth, etc.), age and comparative rarity. Without proper conditions uniform displayed even for a few months may see damage to the fragile textile, and fade the brilliant colors found on most military uniforms.

Artifacts are susceptible to damage by handling, even if they appear to be reasonably sturdy. The Museum maintains a supply of plain cotton gloves, available through a Museum supply store, and trains all staff members to use gloves when handling artifacts. Even freshly washed hands retain sufficient oils to cause damage to an artifact.

Even exhibiting a uniform for a few months using natural or fluorescent lighting (light that emits UV rays) will damage fragile textile, and fade the brilliant colours found on most military uniforms.

Artifact Loans

All artifact loans, whether to the Museum or borrowed from the Museum, must be documented. This documentation must state who owns the artifact, who has borrowed it, the condition of the artifact, and the terms of the loan, including its length. This documented information protects the Museum and the depositor / borrower in the event of loss or damage and provides information for insurance purposes. The standard loan agreement form to be used is at Appendix 6 Tab J.

Disposal of Surplus Assets

The Director/Curator (s) will periodically conduct a review of assets to determine which are deemed surplus, no longer used, which have become obsolete, worn out or scrap. The following general procedure shall be followed when an artifact is identified for disposal. A graphic flow chart (algorithm) is provided at Appendix 7

1. Public Property - Materiel issued by the CF Supply System on a public property distribution account in accordance with DAOD 3013-1, Disposal of Surplus Materiel; and
2. Non-Public Property (NPP) - Materiel or artifacts obtained other than by issue, e.g., by donation to the Crown in the right of Canada or purchase with Non-Public Funds (NPF), in accordance with A-FN-105-001/AG-001, Policy and Procedures for NPF Accounting Chapter 28 Disposal of Property; and
3. Loan - articles on loan to the museum will be returned to the Owner for redistribution or disposal

The disposition assets, whether public, non-public or on loan will be recorded in the Outgoing Artifacts and Memorabilia Register (Appendix 6 Tab I)
